TANGERINE CORRIDOR

The project team has chosen to utilize the Construction Management at Risk (CMAR) approach to construction, which combines the efforts of the design engineering team, the owner and the contractor to work together to complete the improvements. The CMAR contractor selected for this project is the Tangerine Corridor Constructors – a Granite Construction – Borderland Construction joint venture. Construction is anticipated to begin in 2016. Representatives will be at the Open House to provide a project update and an anticipated construction timeline.
